

University of Lethbridge

MEDIA ADVISORY

For immediate release — Monday, June 20, 2022

University of Lethbridge recognizing National Indigenous Peoples Day with multiple activities

The University of Lethbridge is recognizing National Indigenous Peoples Day with activities on its Lethbridge campus this week. Following are events open to the media and general public.

Tuesday, June 21

11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Round Dance in the Atrium (University Hall)

Presented by Ikaisskini Indigenous Services in partnership with the Dhillon School of Business

12 to 1 p.m.

BBQ Lunch in the Atrium (University Hall)

Presented by Ikaisskini Indigenous Services, in partnership with the Mastercard Program and EleV

1 to 3 p.m.

Oki Sign Making (Innovation Zone, SA6304, Science Commons)

Presented by Ikaisskini Indigenous Services in partnership with Agility

Wednesday, June 22

1 to 3 p.m.

Beading Workshop (Ikaisskini (Low Horn) Gathering Place, W650)

Presented by Ikaisskini Indigenous Services, in partnership with the Mootookakio'ssin Research Project, the Art Gallery and the Faculty of Fine Arts — workshop with Melissa Shouting

-- 30 --

Contact:

Trevor Kenney, News & Information Manager

403-329-2710

403-360-7639 (cell)

trevor.kenney@uleth.ca

@ULethbridge