

Charlotte Brenner

Academic Representative

Dr. Charlotte Brenner is an Assistant Professor of Education at the University of Lethbridge in Alberta, Canada. She obtained her undergraduate degree in Psychology, Certificate of Liberal Arts and teaching certification from Simon Fraser University in 1996. Under the supervision of Dr. Nancy Perry, she completed her Master of Education in Special Education in 2002 and her PhD in Human Development, Learning and Culture in 2020. Prior to her appointment at the University of Lethbridge in 2022, Charlotte worked as a classroom and inclusive education teacher in the Surrey School District for 25 years. As an Assistant Professor, she is focused on developing an understanding of supports and constraints for teachers' and teacher candidates' development of inclusive learning environments.